

Photo Exhibit and Presentations of Hillsborough Stories

Duke students from the Center for Documentary Studies spent the spring semester documenting the town of Hillsborough. Projects include many people trying to make a difference like the firemen, the Snow Foundation and Eyes, Ears, Nose and Paws where they train service dogs. Other projects show gathering places like Nash Street Tavern, Volume Records, Weaver Street and Eno River Brewery. Still others show artists like former Mayor Tom Stevens, Jeannine Rogers and the dancers at Monarch Movement.

The class is called Small Town USA. An exhibit of photographs will line King Street Friday night 4/26 during April's Last Fridays event starting at 5:30pm. At 7:30, students will present the projects with narrated slide shows at the Hillsborough Presbyterian Church located at 102 W. Tryon Street.

Each student chose his or her subject, and the list of stories is diverse:

Through the Flames:

A Glimpse into the Fire Department

Project by Abby Perry

Nash Street's Heart and Home

Project by Amelia Skena

Harmonies on Tap: Inside A Record Bar

Project by Caspar Dicke

Brewing Bonds: Eno River Brewery

Project by Colton Pleasants

Care, Community, and Food:

The Heart of Weaver Street

Project by Elly Ronald

The Game of Pool

Project by Elsie Gothman

Eyes, Ears, Nose and Paws:

A Man's Second Chance

Project by Eva Aggarwal

Mayor Mark Bell

Project by Fatima Haiž

Finding the Magik in Hillsborough

Project by Kuzi Goora

Movie Night

Project by Lan Wei

Built by Hand: Jeannine's Way

Project by Libby Tejada

Our Place: Snow Approach and Beyond

Project by Lingyi Shen

Old Church Finds New Purpose

Project by Nicole Nie

Just Dance

Project by XT Lien

For more information, call Instructor Susie Post-Rust at (919) 308-0137.